

URGENT!

7 March 2040

@Animal Hearts Community: This is Madalyn, Ernie's Mother-AKA "M." I post in her place because she is very sick. She had run away from home to keep her pig Obie safe from United Revive, but recently she returned. She came home without Obie and refuses to tell me where he is, afraid I'll turn him in. This is why I am writing to you all-to plead for help, for Ernie's life. I have reason to believe that her physical separation from him is directly related to her illness. Her heart-cloned from his-is literally broken without him. Now I know many of you may have a low opinion of me based on what Ernie has said. Please believe me I have her best interests at heart. She is my everything. I am convinced that their hearts are in symbiosis, which is really what she's been telling me all these years. We just didn't know to what extent! Her heart is failing her and the only cure is to be re-united with its original-Obie and his heart. If any of you know where Obie is, please let me know so I can re-unite them. I promise I will not return him to United Revive. I hope you will trust a mother's love for her only child. If you have any information about the whereabouts of Ernie's beloved pig, please pm me through this forum.
